When duel Hotheads go nuclear war

August 12, 2017

The president 's special envoy is "angry and angry" about Kim Jong Il' s escalation of tension with North Korea. The country's military conflict will lead to catastrophic consequences. Is there any trouble with diplomatic channels?

August is the same in Korea. Common border 38 near the parallel, the target fire should represent the North Korean tank. Low-altitude helicopters and fighters lightning and tanks rolling over the air on the beach, about 80,000 South Korean soldiers and our joint exercises simulated defense attacks. The past has caused a serious crisis.

But this year, two weeks before the test reached its peak. There is no tank or military deployment request, as long as these words: "North Korea is best not to any threat to the United States, they will encounter fire and anger like the world has never seen.

Donald the ace on Tuesday night to put these words a little forward, his hands crossed, the backlit and golf course in the backstage, terrible other parts of the world. This is by far the most serious warning of the Pyongyang regime, adjacent to the war declaration. By doing so, ignoring the uncle's uncle's principle, the President of the United States boasted that his nuclear weapons were not like teenagers. He does not seem to care about the purpose of these weapons is a deterrent, they are not if you take another step, threatening to calm down the waste, it is difficult to distinguish between him and dictator Kim Jong-un.

Even North Korea is not ashamed of his threat of friction, and his critics "nuclear war hysterical" statement says "very reckless".

Verbal thanks

This sentence seems to be controlled by the Washington Post recently published an article. It says North Korea has made the micro-warheads able to adapt to the capabilities of long-range missiles in theory to reach the United States. This story is based on the analysis of the president of the National Defense Fruit Agency may be achieved. Although the president likes to think that he needs newspaper coverage is unable to reach a comment.

The New York Times reported that the ace had neither planned nor discussed the possibility with their advisers before his choice of words - although this could lead to an explosive conflict. The words slipped off, the president in his new tongue he wanted to prove that even in his holiday, he finally said the crisis. In January he pushed: "The North says it is the final stage of the development of nuclear weapons capabilities, and some parts of the United States will not happen!"

Nevertheless, it is burning fire, so the risk of military conflict with North Korea is growing. Ironically, small economies are comparable to gross domestic product (GDP), and only half of Americans spend on pets to develop a nuclear missile with long-range missiles.

The German Foreign Minister criticized the "positive language", Gabriel said he had caused Kim Jung's call. "There is no military solution to the conflict," Gabriel said to Deppel. "The risk is great, especially in South Korea, of course, for the region and the world.

The war could mean tens of thousands of deaths, destroying the capital of Seoul, South Korea, could attack the United States in East Asia and even the US military base. North Korea will give up the ruins, causing the global economy shocked

Given the potential consequences are serious, no one is interested in war, and even Donald's ace - at least hope. If all goes well, it may just be a battle between ace and gold, which eventually leads to negotiations. But the worry is that this may be a series of new situations and threats of uncontrolled and counter-threat escalation. To a certain extent, you can see that you are forced to preemptive attack on the other side.

Well, the nuclear warheads on both sides of the Pacific represent almost every threat of life and death, with little threat to the city. On the one hand, you in the last 200 days, they did not focus on the ace, Twitter tycoon rarely. On the other hand, the Korean dictator, a man is a painful war, is a regular power.

At the end of July, the North Korean military was highly vigilant and would be "the first to eliminate any country" threatening the regime's "dignity" of the highest "means of mobilization, including nuclear fire, anger", the dynasty replied that it was necessary Guam fired four medium-range missiles, the ground is the Pacific air base. One-sixth of the nuclear test may soon be.

This war means that tens of thousands of people died, destroying the capital of South Korea, South Korea, may attack the United States in East Asia and the United States military base. North Korea will give up the ruins, causing the global economy shocked

Donald wins Tuesday in his "fire and anger". Several people can influence the trump card North Korea's policy. The State Department still has many vacancies and lacks experts who can develop strategies. Rex Tillerson (Rex Tillerson) - these days, the Secretary of State is the basic washing machine vacuum cleaner, things do not have much noise. Tillerson himself in March this year, suddenly issued a "strategic patience policy is over." A few days ago, Washington was not much changed in North Korea's regime, among him. Trump's flames and has long been angry, as if he said can no longer come up with a better way, there is no reason to worry about the president's speech, "Americans should sleep well at night." This is a sign of chaos in Washington, the defense minister, the whole people, Wednesday's escalation warned that North Korea must "stop any action that will lead to the final system and destruction." But how is North Korea's threat? The United States estimates that Kim Jong Il has 60 nuclear weapons, and he is often involved to ensure that military technical experts are fast. Mr. Lee in Seoul (2) said: "He went to use carrots and sticks, when many experts suspected that may be false, but some people still doubt its authenticity. Small nuclear warheads marked a breakthrough, a military expert that can only be within two years. Whether North Korea has the capacity or the precise goal of the United States is uncertain

The July intercontinental ballistic missile test showed that the missile was burned through the Earth's atmosphere. Thus, Robert Littwick, of the Woodrows Wilson Center in Washington, said Kim Jong-il's missile test created a new urgency in the nuclear program. He called Kim Jong-il as the "Manhattan Project", but until Pyongyang was going to Thousands of kilometers of nuclear missile attack capability also takes a year. However, experts often encounter some mistakes in the past, Pyongyang seems to be fast

North Korean leader Kim Jong-un can boast that he has filled the family heritage of seeking to build nuclear weapons.

North Korea's official propaganda machine has young leaders praised as military commanders, and he has won countless battles. He has been able to boast that he has fulfilled the legacy of his grandfather Kim Il Sung and his father Kim Jong Il, who used the nuclear weapons to obtain the Stalinist dynasty intervention from a great power. As the most important strategic goal of nuclear power recognition point where possible through the United States and India to reach a compromise? Kim Jong Il, now may be the most important strategic goal of nuclear power. The "North Korea is developing nuclear weapons for political reasons," said Ra jong Yil, former deputy director of the Korean intelligence department. He does not believe that Mr. Kim will use his Arsenal. In the long run, he said his goal was to withdraw from South Korea to the United States to assess the share in Japan. Japan's military personnel do not think Kim Jong-il has committed his own power by retaliating against the United States.
